FOREWORD

The annual graduate follow-up survey collects information from graduates of regular and non-regular training programs approximately one year following graduation. The information gathered provides valuable feedback on the success of graduates in the labour market and is an important tool for decision-makers. This tool, along with other sources, is incorporated into the Department's planning process.

This report presents the findings of the Survey of 2006 New Brunswick Community College Graduates[1]. The survey was conducted with 1,894 graduates over a sixteen week period starting June 25th, 2007. This represents a response rate of 72%.

The reference week for the survey was June 3rd – June 9th, 2007. Survey results indicate that graduates of the Class of 2006 were again very successful in locating employment, with an employment rate of 91%. This is the highest rate ever achieved by the NBCC.

The Department would like to thank the New Brunswick Community College graduates who participated in this survey; their input has been invaluable.

Graduate follow-up survey results will be located on our website at the following location: http://www.gnb.ca/0126/index-e.asp.

As always, your comments and suggestions are welcome. Please forward all communication on this year's survey to:

The points that follow present key information obtained through the 2007 survey.

- The employment rate for graduates one year following graduation was 91%, an increase of one percentage point over that reported in 2006 (90%).
- The employment rate for female graduates was 92%, similar to that in 2006 (92%).
- The employment rate for male graduates was 89%, an increase of one percentage point over that reported in 2006 (88%).
- The unemployment rate for graduates was 9% in 2007, a decrease of one percentage point over the 10% reported in 2006.
- Overall, the percentage of related employment since graduation as a percentage of total employment increased from 80% in 2006 to 83% in 2007.
- The level of related employment in the 2007 reference week has remained stable over the past year (83% in 2006, 84% in 2007).
- The percentage of employed graduates working in New Brunswick has decreased over the past year (89% in 2006, 87% in 2007).
- The percentage of graduates who reported being self-employed was 4% in 2007, higher than 2006 (2%).
- The majority (88%) of employed graduates in 2007 continued to work for one employer in the reference week, similar to that reported in 2006 (89%).
- Female graduates in full-time positions earned approximately 80% of the wages of male graduates in full-time positions, a decrease of six percentage points over 2006 results. Female graduates working full-time in positions related to their training also earned 80% of the average wages of male graduates in similar positions, again a decrease of six percentage points over that reported in 2006.

1.0 Introduction

Follow-up surveys with graduates of New Brunswick Community Colleges (NBCC)[5] have been conducted since 1983. For the past nineteen years the survey has been conducted by telephone. The survey is conducted annually with graduates of regular and non-regular programs of the campuses. For the 2007 survey, interviews were completed with 1,894 graduates from a total listing of 2,646 graduates who were eligible to participate in the survey.

The data supplied by these surveys provides valuable feedback on the success of New Brunswick Community College graduates in the labour market, which, in turn, serves as an important indicator of how well the training provided by the NBCC system corresponds to the demands of the labour market.

This report provides detailed information gathered from the Survey of 2006 New Brunswick Community College Graduates through five sections, which are summarized in the material which follows.

- Section 2.0 presents the methodology of the 2007 survey and provides a profile of the graduates contacted with a comparison with the overall population of graduates.
- Section 3.0 presents the information highlights from the 2007 survey.
- Section 4.0 presents fact sheets that report the survey information on a program-by-program basis.
- Section 5.0 presents labour market information on a program-by-program basis.
- Section 6.0 presents the evaluations provided by graduates of programs and services offered at NBCC.

A list of the terminology used in this report is provided in Appendix A.

2.0 Methodology

The Survey of 2006 New Brunswick Community College Graduates was guided by researchers from the Labour Market Analysis Branch of the Department of Post-Secondary Education, Training and Labour (the Department). Any comments or questions about the information contained in this document should be forwarded to the Department.

In June 2007, the Department generated a database with background and current contact information for 2,683 graduates from the Class of 2006. The background data and required contact information was retrieved from the Department's student information management system.

Prior to the start of the survey (in June 2007), the database was reduced by six (6) graduates for whom no current telephone numbers were available. During the data collection period, thirty-one (31) graduates were removed from the original list because they were deceased (1) or indicated they were not graduates of a 2006 program (30). Following removal of these names from the database, there were 2,646 potential contacts for the Class of 2006. The 1,894 interviews completed represent 72% of the total number of graduates who were eligible to participate in this survey.

As in previous surveys, graduates were asked about their activities during a specific week of the year (the reference week). Reference week information is an indicator of graduates' current activities. The reference week for the 2007 survey was June 3rd – June 9th, 2007.

In addition to reference week information and information collected on activities since completing their training, graduates were also asked to evaluate their NBCC training program and various facilities and services available at their campus.

The overall approach to the Graduate Follow-Up Survey was changed in 1996. Previously, surveys were conducted in March, capturing information from graduates of the previous academic year The change in the time of the reference week should be kept in mind when comparing the results from the surveys in 1996 - 2007 to those conducted in previous years. For example, the question asking respondents if they were studying during the reference week gave very different results in 1996 - 2007 compared to previous years. These differences are understandable considering that most people enrolled in post-secondary institutions would be attending classes in March but not in June.

This survey was administered by telephone, using a Computer Assisted Telephone Interviewing (CATI) system, and an attempt was made to contact all graduates, regardless of their current area of residence. Graduates were assured of absolute confidentiality of responses and were informed of their valuable contribution to the study. MarketQuest's toll-free number was provided to graduates if they had any questions or apprehensions about the survey. Graduates were given the option to complete the survey in French or English. Data collection for this study was completed during the summer/fall of 2007.

The 2007 survey response rate of 72% is lower than the 80% that was achieved historically. In recent years, it has required additional time for data collection to achieve the desired response rate.

The table that follows presents a summary of response rates for the surveys over the 2003 – 2007 period. As shown in the table, response rates have decreased over the past five years.

Table 1: Response Rates 2003-2007

	Graduate Population	Survey Population	Response Rate
2007 Regular/Non-Regular	2,646	1,894	72%
2007 Regular	2,159	1,531	71%
2006 Regular/Non-Regular	2,654	1,927	73%

2003 Regular/Non-Regular	2,667	2,125	80%
2003 Regular	2,115	1,696	80%

Measuring labour market participation is a primary objective of the graduate follow-up surveys. Because of the importance of this information, an attempt was made to determine the extent to which a change in the time of the reference week (initiated in 1996) affected the results of reported labour force activity. The potential effects were initially monitored in the 1996 survey and monitoring has continued through to the current survey.

As shown in the following table, the labour force participation rate was higher in June (95%) than in March (91%); however, the employment rate remained stable in March and June (91% and 91%, respectively).

3.2 ADDITIONAL EDUCATION/ TRAINING FOR GRADUATES

In surveys prior to 2001, graduates were asked if they were attending an educational institution or training program at the time of survey contact. Since 2001, respondents have been asked if they were attending an educational institution or training program or planning to attend in the near future.

As demonstrated in the table that follows, the percentage of graduates attending or planning to attend an educational institution or training program has increased steadily from 2003 (12%) to 2007 (23%).

3.3 OVERALL EMPLOYMENT FOR GRADUATES

The table which follows demonstrates the percentage of graduates with at least one month of employment in a position related to their training. Since graduation, 91% of graduates have been employed in positions related to their training. More specifically, graduates averaged 83% of their months employed since graduation in positions related to their training, an increase of three percentage points since 2006.

3.4 GEOGRAPHIC LOCATION OF GRADUATES

In June 2007, 89% of graduates were residing in New Brunswick, similar to the findings for the previous class of graduates (89%).

Approximately 16% of graduates have lived outside New Brunswick since graduation. Among those who have lived outside the province (n=312), the majority (71%) left the province for employment. In 2007, 58% of graduates who left the province for employment had obtained employment prior to relocation, compared to 41% in 2006.

[10] Employment details including job classification, hours of work, average wages, and occupation were not collected for 28 graduates who were on maternity leave or in school - apprenticeship block during the reference week.

As with previous years, the majority of employed graduates (71%) were employed in positions directly related to their training. Overall, related employment (directly and indirectly) has remained consistent over the past year (84% compared to 83% in 2006).

Graduates working full-time averaged 42 hours in the reference week with an average wage of $591. Graduates working part-time averaged 20 hours with an average wage of $285.

[11] Not all respondents could be classified on a full-time or part-time basis due to a lack of information provided.

Graduates were asked for their perceptions about the wages they earned in the reference week. Overall:

- 10% of employed graduates reported that their wages were much better than those of others in similar positions;
- 22% reported that their wages were better than those of others in similar positions;
- 52% reported that their wages were the same as those for others in similar positions; and
- 16% reported that their wages were worse (13%) or much worse (3%) than those for others in similar positions.

The table which follows shows the average full-time and part-time wages of employed graduates based on their perceptions of these wages. As shown below, there appears to be a relationship between the wages earned in the reference week and perceptions about those wages, whereby the higher the wages, the more positive the perception of these wages compared to wages in other similar positions.

Industrial Classification of Employment

Starting with the 1999 Survey, industries in which graduates were employed in the Reference Week were coded according to the North American Industrial Classification System (NAICS). Should researchers want to compare employment in industrial sectors for 1999-2002 with other graduate survey data, a conversion program would be required. Conversion programs are available through Statistics Canada. Note that the NAICS numbers used represent major groupings within NAICS.

Most commonly, employed graduates worked in the Health Care and Social Assistance industry (23%).

Gender Differences in Wages

In past graduate surveys, gaps have been identified between the overall wages of male and female graduates. In 2007, male graduates averaged $651 per week in full-time positions, while female graduates in full-time positions averaged $519 per week, a gap of approximately 20%.

Since it has been demonstrated that males and females tend to be employed in different occupations, gaps may be expected; however, as shown in the following table, similar wage gaps do not always exist when male and female graduates are employed in the same occupations.

Unemployed and Not in the Labour Force

Overall, 9% of graduates contacted (n=170) were unemployed in the reference week. The table which follows demonstrates that the unemployment rate varied considerably when segmented by campus. Information on unemployment rates within programs is presented in Section 5.0.

Unemployment Rate by Campus

Bathurst	17%	Miramichi	15%

Graduates who were not employed during the reference week (n=266) were asked to provide the main reason for this lack of employment. Graduates who were not employed include those who were unemployed and those who were not in the labour force.

Most commonly, graduates were not working during the reference week because of an inability to find work/lack of jobs (22%), in school/training full-time (21%), or an inability to find jobs related to their NBCC training (17%).

Table 27: Main Reason for Not Working Among Graduates Not Employed

Twenty-five percent of graduates not working during the reference week (n=65) were attending or planning to attend an educational institution or training program. These graduates provided the following reasons for their return to an educational institution or training program:

- to upgrade existing skills (49%);
- to learn a new trade or occupation (15%);
- to get a better/more interesting job (14%);
- to get a university degree (11%);
- to find employment (5%);
- to get an apprenticeship (5%); and
- some other reason (1%).

3.6 OTHER SURVEY FINDINGS

Employment Since Graduation

The strong majority of graduates (98%) have been employed since graduation; and those employed averaged 1.7 different jobs. The percentage of graduates who have been employed since graduation has remained stable over the past year (98% for the previous class of graduates).

Motivations for Community College Enrollment

Beginning with the 1999 survey, all graduates were asked why they had decided to pursue their training at the NBCC rather than through a university or private training program. Overall, graduates offered the following reasons for pursuing training at the NBCC:

- the training is only offered at a particular campus (29%);
- tuition/costs (19%);
- the location of a particular campus (10%);
- length of program (8%);
- reputation of the NBCC (8%);
- more hands on/more detailed and specific/more on-the-job training (5%);
- a desire to go there (4%);
- job prospects (3%);
- not interested in attending university (3%);
- funding available (2%);
- low grades (2%); and
- other reasons (7%).

When asked why they had selected a particular campus for their program of study, the following reasons were provided:

- location (52%);
- particular program was available only at the campus selected (31%);
- reputation (5%);
- preferred language of instruction offered (4%);
- friends/relatives attended/currently attending same campus (2%); and
- other reasons (6%).

The strong majority of graduates (95%) were accepted to the NBCC in the year in which they made their initial application.

Overall, 84% of graduates reported that based on their experiences since completing the program, they would select the same field of study if they were making the decision about enrollment today.

Prior Learning Assessment and Recognition and Credit Transfer Services

Graduates were asked questions to determine their awareness, use and evaluation of PLAR and Credit Transfer Services. Overall:

- 61% of graduates reported that they were aware of these services; and
- 39% were not aware of these services.

When contacted in 2006, 57% of graduates reported awareness of PLAR and Credit Transfer Services.

Among those who were aware of these services (n=1,155):

- 64% heard about PLAR through their campus;
- 24% heard about PLAR through word-of-mouth; and
- 12% heard about PLAR through other means.

Of graduates who were aware of these services, 23% (n=268) have used them (14% of all graduates). Of those who have used these services:

- 47% have applied for Credit Transfer;
- 31% have applied for a Prior Learning Assessment; and
- 22% have applied for both.

Graduates who have applied for one or both of these services were asked if they had received course credit for courses taken at another institution or from an employer. The majority of these graduates (65%) reported that they had received course credit. This course credit resulted in a reduced course load for 77%, reduced tuition for 1%, reduced course load and tuition for 12%, and some other result for the remaining 10%.

The graduates who received course credit (n=171) provided the following evaluations of the services they received:

- 60% were very satisfied;
- 37% were satisfied;
- 3% were unsatisfied; and
- 1% were very unsatisfied.

Peer Tutoring

Sixty-three percent of graduates were aware of peer tutoring at the NBCC. Among graduates who were aware (n=1,191), 15% reported that they had used the peer tutoring system. Graduates who had used the peer tutoring system (n=177) provided the following evaluations of the effectiveness of the assistance provided through peer tutoring:

- 39% provided a rating of excellent;
- 49% provided a rating of good;
- 9% provided a rating of fair; and
- 3% provided a rating of poor.

Post Program Artistic Involvement of NBCCD Graduates

Graduates of the New Brunswick College of Craft and Design (n=23) were asked several questions about their post-training involvement with the arts community in New Brunswick.

Since graduation, two NBCCD graduates (9%) had applied to the New Brunswick Arts Board or the Canada Council for funding to promote or prepare their craft. Of those who applied, neither received an award or grant.

Since graduation, over one-half of NBCCD graduates (57%, n=13) reported that they have contributed to the arts through exhibits, donations or in other ways.

During the reference week, 61% of those who had completed a program through NBCCD (n=14) were practising their craft or preparing for an exhibit for which they were not paid.

The sections which follow present information about graduates on a program-by-program basis.

4.0 Survey Results by Campus and Program

The following section contains a fact sheet for the Class of 2006, fact sheets for male and female graduates, a fact sheet for each campus and fact sheets for all programs for which more than 3 graduates were interviewed. Information is presented first in summary form if the program is offered in more than one location, followed by information on the program for each campus.

The programs which follow have been excluded because of the small number of graduates reached (3 or less). Although excluded from this section, labour market information for programs in which graduates were contacted may be found in Section 5.0.

The figures presented are based on earnings reported by graduates who indicated that their employment was either directly or indirectly related to their training.

Employed

The number of respondents who had a job during the reference week.

Employment

Defined in terms of full-time/part-time and permanent/temporary as follows:

Full-time	Employment of 30 hours or more per week.
Part-time	Employment of less than 30 hours per week.
Permanent	Employment which has no prearranged termination date.
Temporary	Employment which ends at a prearranged date.

Employment Rate

The number of employed graduates as a percentage of those in the labour force.

Employment Related to Training

Employed graduates were asked about the extent to which their employment during the reference week was related to their training program. Options presented to the respondent included directly related, indirectly related and not at all related.

Related Employment

Includes employment that graduates reported as either directly related or indirectly related to their training program. Directly related means that graduates were in jobs for which their training programs had been designed. Indirectly related means that graduates were in jobs that required at least some of the skills that were acquired during their training program.

Not at all related

Means that graduates were in jobs that did not require any of the skills that were acquired during their training program.

Graduate Population

Graduates of regular training programs or non-regular (contract or distance) training programs of twelve weeks or more in duration that terminated between January 1, and December 31, 2006.

Labour Force

In the context of this survey, Labour Force is composed of respondents who were either employed or unemployed but looking for work during the reference week.

A monthly survey by Statistics Canada which collects labour force information from a representative sample of the working age population.

NAICS (North American Industrial Classification System)

NAICS was used to categorize the industrial sectors/industries in which graduates were employed in the reference week. Fact sheets list the top three industries for employment. If the percentage of respondents is equal across occupations, the three most closely related to the training completed are listed.

NOC (National Occupational Classification)

The National Occupational Classification was used to categorize the kind of work done by graduates. The top three responses are given. If the percentage of respondents in each occupation is equal the three that appear most relevant to the program content are listed.

Programs

Regular

Programs that operated throughout the year on a year-to-year basis. Regular training programs are funded through the departmental budgetary process. Regular training programs are listed in the annual New Brunswick Community College Calendar. (R=Regular)

Non-Regular

Programs that are offered through the New Brunswick Community College that are not part of the regular program listing in the NBCC Calendar. These programs may or may not have the same content as regular training programs of the same name. (NR=Non-Regular)

Co-op

Cooperative Education Programs integrate periods of classroom study with periods of training in related work. Each work situation is developed and approved by the College as a suitable learning situation. Co-Op trainees are placed in productive work, receive wages and have their progress monitored by the employers and representatives of the College. (Co-Op)
